

Endless Summer Cigar festival

FEBRUARY 8-10, 2013 | OAHU, HAWAII

Cigar Gala

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 2013, 5PM-9PM, DINNER 6:30PM
 ROYAL HAWAIIAN HOTEL, WAIKIKI BEACH
 Join us for an evening of fine cigars, dinner, and live entertainment

Join us for Hawai'i's first ever Endless Summer Cigar Festival. On February 8-10, 2013, some of the top names in the world of cigar manufacturing will be visiting the Islands to help us celebrate the history and tradition of premium cigars in the Aloha State.

Since the early 1800s tobacco farming has had roots in Hawai'i, and for the first time in nearly two hundred years we will pay tribute to Hawai'i's past, present and future cigar industry. On display at the event, and from the archives at Bishop Museum, Kaua'i Museum, and the Kona Historical Society will be photographs and written excerpts from Hawai'i's tobacco and cigar history.

Tobacco farm in Kainaliu, Honuaino, North Kona. Undated. (Early 1900's).
 Kona Historical Society

While we take a trip back in time to explore our rich history, guests will enjoy live Hawaiian entertainment, dinner, spirits, and some of the finest cigars known to man. Special guests include Jose Pepin Garcia, his wife Maria, his son Jaime Garcia and his wife Dianelis Bermudez, and daughter Janny Garcia, along with the owners of Ashton Cigar Robert Levin and his wife Suzanne, as well as Pete Johnson, owner of Tatuaje cigars, and Rocky Patel of Rocky Patel Premium Cigars. This special night will be filled with renown cigar brands like Ashton, My Father,

Freshly picked Kauai tobacco beginning its long journey to become a premium cigar.

Island Prince, Tatuaje, Partagas, Hawaiian Vintage, La Duena, La Aroma De Cuba, Makaleha, CAO, Macanudo, San Cristobal, Don Pepin, Rocky Patel, and many others.

Retailers like Tobaccos of Hawaii, R. Field Wine, Shiroma's Fine Wine, Fujioka's and other fine merchants from around the State will also be on hand to exhibit the multitude of premium cigar brands sold in Hawaii. Torcedors from the Kauai Cigar Company will be hand making their limited edition Made In Hawaii, Grown in Hawaii cigars throughout the night, and local spirit companies will be pairing drinks and smokes. A plentitude of rare cigar treasures will also be sold in a silent auction and benefit those in the military who have been injured defending our Nation.

Father and Son, Pepin and Jaime Garcia, hand making cigars

Presented by the Hawaii Cigar Association, and hosted by the Royal Hawaiian Hotel this night of fun, will be shared by kama'aina, malihini and visitors from afar.

Come join us for this spectacular event. Ticket Price: $125 full, $110 companion, $110 military only, 1-800-750-5662, (808) 822-4495 or visit hawaiiicigarassociation.org/festival2013

For tickets call 1-800-750-5662 or visit hawaiiicigarassociation.org/festival2013
 For information on air transportation, rental car, and hotel accommodations please call us.

